Toys

We are going to stop the daily bucket filling for a little while. The toys have become a distraction for the children in the morning. The class can still bring in toys on Friday for Show-n-Share.

PBS Corner

This month the class is continuing the lessons on self-regulation and what to do when you do not like something. The books for this month are I Just Don't Like the Sound of No! written by Julia Cook and illustrated by Kelsey De Weerd; and My No No Day written and illustrated by Rebecca Patterson.

Naps

We are slowly tapering back naps in the classroom. We will be nap free Monday, Wednesday, Friday and will take naps on Tuesday, Thursday.

Picture Day

FYI

The weather is warmer and that means water bottle time. All water bottles will be in the red bucket and are sanitized in the kitchen. If you would like to take it home on Fridays just let me know.

Thanks!
